"Design Of Experiment."

D.O.E. D.O.E. is a sampling technique used in Quality Control in Engineering. Data points are chosen to assess the presence of defects. These points are chosen not randomly, but to reveal a representative sample. Such are the following tables of "Magic Letters" by their 7 posited groups.

Formal vs. "Homey" Science.

A human language can be described academically as a proper subset of a free monoid. Or this idea can be expressed in a homier way with monkeys at typewriters. Some inaccuracy MAY creep in, in the "Homier" way. But Nanosemantics favors homier expressions, for their contribution to transparency.
